

SECOND CHANCE FOR TOYS
— Governor Livingston High School student Sasha Lipton, third from left, has been recognized by Union County Freeholder Chairwoman Bette Jane Kowalski, second from left, and Freeholder Vice Chairman Angel G. Estrada, right, with a resolution to thank her for her donation of 125 toys to the Union County toy drive. The 17-year-old Mountainside resident is the founder of Second Chance Toys, a program to rescue and refurbish plastic toys before they go to landfills. Sasha sanitizes and prepares the toys and donates them to organizations that help needy children around the state. Joining the freeholders is Toy Drive Coordinator Mary Krech of the Union County Department of Human Services. For more information on the program, visit www.secondchancetoys.org.
